

New Emerson School is an Award Winning School

New Emerson School staff, students, and parents have successfully told our approaches, systems, and methodologies used at New Emerson in an application and on site visit. As a result of the evaluation by the examiners and judges at Colorado Performance Excellence (CPEX), New Emerson School is the recipient of the Foothills level of performance award. Staff members will be recognized at the CPEX Awards event on October 23 in Littleton, Colorado. This is a significant accomplishment in the journey for performance excellence. As part of this process, a feedback report has been compiled with our strengths and opportunities for improvement in the areas of leadership, strategic planning, customer and market focus, measurement, analysis, knowledge management, human resources, and process management. We look forward to continuing our journey to become a world class school. The next level of performance is the Timberline level of performance.
